Policymaker Visits

Members making policymaker visits should check the master assignment list for their schedule and pick up a set of background and message papers for each visit you will make.

There should be plenty of time between meetings, but remember that large tourist groups can significantly delay getting into office buildings, so plan to arrive early.

Do not wait for those who do not arrive on time – if they are delayed they can join the meeting in progress. Or, they may have been diverted to another meeting. At the scheduled time of your meeting tell the receptionist that your group may be joined by another person or two, but you would like to go ahead whenever the Senator, Representative or staff member can see you.

Please agree on one person who will send a short follow-up note to Bruce Thompson summarizing your meeting.
